

Pictures from Memory Lane Park:

Murals painted by Matt Taylor

Fairmont Board of Commissioners

- Mayor Charles Kemp
- Mayor Pro Tempore Wade Sealey
- Commissioner J.J. McCree
- Commissioner Charles Townsend
- Commissioner Wayland Lennon, III
- Commissioner Jay Capps
- Commissioner Carol Leak-McKenzie

Fairmont Administrative Staff

- Town Manager Blake Proctor
- Town Clerk Jenny Larson
- Public Safety Director Robert Hassell
- Public Works Director Ronnie Seals
- Finance Director Linda Vause
- Tax Collector Rebecca Andrews
- Water Collections Clerk Joyce Thompson
- Recreation Director Mickey Williamson

Town of Fairmont
P.O. Box 248
Fairmont, North Carolina 28340
Phone: 910-628-9766
Fax: 910-628-6025
E-mail: fairmontnc@bellsouth.net
Web: www.fairmontnc.com

WELCOME TO FAIRMONT AND OUR “NEW” DOWNTOWN

*Downtown Fairmont, where Main Street charm
meets a proud heritage.*

The “NEW” Downtown

We welcome you to our newly renovated downtown commercial district and hope you are impressed by what you see. The work on the revitalization of this part of our community began in January of 2006 with the “vision” to remove the decaying Capitol Theater and replace it with an attractive park. Heritage Park, with its locomotive mural, picnic benches, ornamental lighting, and shrubbery, was dedicated in May of 2007. A hot dog vendor serves very tasty lunches to many in the park and in good weather outdoor movies are shown there on Friday evenings. Just across Main Street sits The Heritage Center which serves as our new community building. Once the Pope’s Store, it now serves our citizens educational, social, and organizational needs. The Heritage Center was made possible by the efforts of N. C. Senator David Weinstein and a $504,850 grant from the GoldenLEAF Foundation in June 2007. Three doors south is Memory Lane with its distinctive wall murals depicting historic town features amid pleasant landscaping. The central feature of this stroll through is The Wall of Honor, which is adorned with brass plates honoring those whose efforts have contributed to Fairmont’s success. Other embellishments are the newly painted street lights with their antique fixtures, an attractive message sign in front of our town library, a newly paved Main Street, and many stores sporting a face lift. To those who live here and drive into downtown each day these positive changes are a welcome sight but to the visitor or to former residents who return we hope they represent a bold new step into the future while still embracing the rich and proud heritage of Fairmont’s past.

The train mural in Heritage Park.

Fairmont-South Robeson Heritage Center

Atkinson’s Painting & Repair shop is one of the buildings on Main Street that recently improved its facade in an effort to revitalize downtown.

Town Hall, located on the corner of Main and Cottage Streets.

A “News and Events” sign at the library keeps citizens informed of what’s going on.

The town clock donated by the Fairmont Rotary Club, located in front of Town Hall.

